

Exercise 5 – Considering Choices

Take a few moments to consider this. Put the book down for ten minutes and think about the four examples I've given you about different reactions to the same event. Think of other examples of where you've enjoyed something that someone else doesn't and vice versa. Jot down some thoughts on this in the notes section below.

Consider why this is. See you in ten minutes.

Welcome back!

What did you find? Did you consider that it was people's opinions or viewpoints that came into play here? If so, you're right.
